Tielcey Park Equestrian Centre in Aokautere, near Palmerston North, has pledged to support the CatWalk Trust, with 10% of their pre-tax profits going to the Trust for the next ten years.

The CatWalk Trustees originally gathered together because of common links to a friend critically injured in a riding accident. That friend was Catriona Williams - now a C6-7 tetraplegic. Initially the group planned to fundraise for Williams herself – but a bigger picture quickly became clear. A cure for all was Williams' dream – and so CatWalk was born.

Upon hearing of the initiative by Tielcey Park, Trust Founder, Catriona Williams, commented "I'm personally thrilled that the initiative of Tielcey Park's new Managing Director, Margo Aasen, has been able to combine my two greatest passions: spending money on all things equestrian and the CatWalk Trust. Tielcey Park is a fantastic equestrian facility and one that I made the most of during my riding years. When Catriona then learned that Tielcey Park has fundraised over $10,000 in the first year, she said "Tielcey Park has gone from strength to strength with its new Managing Director, Margo Aasen. Her limitless energy, enthusiasm and passion to succeed have enabled not only the riders who are able to use these exceptional facilities to benefit, but also the CatWalk Trust. It is a privilege for us to have someone who, like the CatWalk team, continues to aim high because there is never a mountain to tall to climb and with combined efforts we're continuing to see extraordinary results. As Margo will agree though it's you, our supporters, who are making the difference! Thank-you so much!"

When asked why Tielcey Park is fundraising for CatWalk, Margo explained "because we can. Spinal injuries are a moment away for many of us riders, and we now in a position to make a significant contribution to support the Trust. Catriona is an example to all riders – her perseverance, courage and positive attitude inspire us all."
